facts in this case so as I might if I saw proper inform you and at my request withdraw upon the statement above & if you choose to authorise me I will employ counsel for you or if you please Wm Lukins of Georgetown would be a trusty and suitable person to attend to it for you and he is a man of your own faith while I am a liberty man and very decidedly opposed to your no government theory which I look upon as the basis of your opposition to organized political action.

Understand me D. Peck is counsel for Tallmadge Ex of Wm Tallmadge deceased & named the matter to me so as if I saw proper I could inform you, that no advantage might be taken.

Wm Robinson Fenton Jefferson Co Ohio is a noted friend of yours, a man of good property and integrity & I doubt not would attend to this matter.

Wm E Lukens, Georgetown Harrison Co. Ohio. A very good man.

If you have occasion to address me: Eli Nichols Loydsville Belmont Co Ohio.

Of course your answers can be made out & forwarded.

Now is a Mary the widow & the three sons & sisters, the children of his only daughter, are the residuary legatees.

At the Sept. term of the court of Oyer & Terminer the Exr. filed his bill to get the instruction of the court as to whether he should pay those two legacies or not — alleging, that the residuary legatee objects to his paying the same, on the ground 1. That the legacies are void because the object is uncertain & that no one can call the legatee to any account.

2. That the legacies are void on the ground, that the object is against public policy, & in contravention of positive enactments in this state.

The answer must be filed in 60 days, but it will make no difference if filed before the January next.

In Eq.

In the Court of Com. Pleas for Belmont County Ohio.

In March 1841 Wm. W. Satterthwait made his last will & testament & died, & at the April term 1841 of this Court the will was proved—
It bears the following clause:

"Three hundred dollars I give & bequeath to Wm. Lloyd Garrison Editor of the Liberator, also I give & bequeath three hundred dollars to Nathaniel P. Rogers Editor of the National anti Slavery Standard to be appropriated by the above named to the promotion of the anti Slavery enterprise"
